

introduction to play therapy training: an experiential workshop

an introduction to working with children using creative media, art, psychodrama, symbols, play equipment

Wednesday 12 June 2019
Thursday 13 June 2019
Friday 14 June 2019

Play is the natural and symbolic language of children.

Goals:

- to develop an understanding of directive and non-directive play therapy models using an attachment based framework.
- to develop skills in the use of aspects of therapeutic play
- to learn how to use arts media, symbols and play equipment in working with children & young people
- to develop an understanding of the significance of the therapeutic relationship with the child or young person using play/expressive approaches
- to develop our own professional creativity
- to develop skills in using play with traumatised children
- to develop an introductory understanding of the connection between early attachment and the use of play.

Workshop facilitator:

Nadine Littledale is a person-centred psychodrama psychotherapist, social worker, trainer and supervisor. She has over 42 years experience in social work and 24 years in psychotherapy working with children and adults in both government & non-government services. She now works in private practice.

This workshop is suitable for anyone working with children in a therapeutic or community context and who wish to develop their skills, understanding and awareness of how to work creatively with children.
